

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR

The arrival of Rex Airlines is a great day for Maryborough.

Rex has already established a fine reputation in other parts of Australia and is highly respected in an extremely competitive industry. It is heartening they chose Maryborough for their debut into Queensland and we welcome them with open arms.

In today's busy work schedules, time is important. Having the Airport right in the city will assist businesses and government departments and be a blessing for medical specialists.

Following hot on the heels of the announcement of Flight Training Queensland College, the re-introduction of air services into the city ensures our Airport will again be a vibrant transport hub and provide yet another boost to our economy.

Council looks forward to working with Managing Director Geoff Breust and the team from Rex and wish them every success.
